

Product End of Life cycle (EOL) Notice

Dear Valued Customer:

This notice is to inform you that Silergy will discontinue supply the products by end of June, 2018.

Detail part listed in below. In many cases we have superior products available that might be suitable replacements for your application. If so, the alternative products you can check with local sales.

We know that changes such as these can be disruptive to your production planning process, so we strive to provide as much notice as possible. Please consider the Last Time Buy Date and Last Ship Date shown below in your planning. Please note that we reserve the right to service any warranty with replacement parts if insufficient inventory of discontinued products is available.
